BELOVED SISTER IS SENT TO JAIL

Feels Force of Law Despite Her Works of Charity.

SHE HAD VIOLATED MEDICAL STATUTE

Angry Villagers Drive Officers Away, but Latter Return in Automobile and Seize Her.

Theatrical Managers Are Worried by Cinematograph Competition.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Paris, August 3.—A severe application of the medical law in Brittany has aroused much sympathy for a Sister of Charity, who is universally beloved for her good works and her great aid to the poor and sick whom the doctors and druggists could not reach.

Some ill-minded person put in operation the machinery of the law and the Sister of Charity was fined for violating the medical statute although she had received no pay for her services.

The Sister had no money to pay her fine, and when the police tried to arrest her the villagers drove them off, but the next day they returned in an automobile and seized the Sister as she was going to church and speeded away with her in an automobile and locked her up in the county jail.

The cinematograph competition is worrying the Paris theatrical managers. Many playrights, including M. Mauboussin, are finding it profitable to produce moving picture scenarios. Vincent Regu, the dramatic critic, says that if the cinematograph ever had any influence on the stage it has destroyed its influence by taking to the level of a Punch and Judy show, and that there is no more relation between the cinematograph and the theatre than there is between the theatre and aviation.

It is possible that the moving picture business has had an effect on the theatre attendance, but the regular theatres are not protesting themselves by attacking the moving pictures and are strengthening themselves by increasing the interest in their entertainments and broadening the lines of their endeavors.

August has always found Boldini smiling and Duran rivaling one another in its and grace at Gaiety.

Duran has always been cordial to everybody, while Boldini has been nervous and irritable. When any one speaks to Duran about Boldini, the former replies: "Boldini? Yes, I know him. He is a very good dancer."

It has been announced that Yvonne Berthelot is to be married to M. Desiré Rousselle, Mlle. Berthelot was recently acquitted of the murder of her mother and the latter's companion, M. Langlois, who she was alleged to have killed because of the latter's threatening his attentions upon her.

Henri Bergson, the philosopher, who was a member of the jury, has refused to tell how he voted, but says the verdict was found by a majority.

M. Rousselle, who was an effective witness for Mlle. Berthelot, is now rewarded by her in becoming his bride.

When Pugh was in Paris recently he showed a friend a tabulated statement of his earnings from his operas during the past twenty years. It began with $2,500, which increased until 1910, when he earned $10,000. In 1911 his earnings were $20,000 and the total for the whole period was nearly $100,000.

Within two months, in 1911, over 1,000,000 birds were caught and killed in one department, that of Meurthe and Moselle. French naturalists are crying out loudly that if all the birds of the world were destroyed the earth would be uninhabitable for man within nine years, notwithstanding that traps and poisons might be used in the place of birds for killing off small insects.

Berlin, August 3.—Something of a furor has been caused by the disclosure that Germany's fleet of Zeppelin airships is insured by a British company. The fact came out when Lloyd's refused to pay the insurance on the airship wrecked recently at Dusseldorf on the ground that the accident did not come within the clauses of the insurance policy. The press then attacked the Zeppelin company for insuring in England and was somewhat dumbfounded by the somewhat prompt reply that the German insurance companies had refused to take risks on Zeppelin airships. The press then attacked the German companies and appeals to the public to protect the secrecy and success of Germany's aerial craft, urging that they be insured, if necessary, through public subscription.

New Dealers for HUDSON Cars

The cars built by 48 Master Engineers will be sold in Richmond by Coleman Cutchins.

He has been chosen after a thorough investigation as to his fitness to properly co-operate with the spirit of this Company.

We are just as particular that the dealers who sell HUDSON Motor Cars shall be in entire sympathy with our policy of price maintenance and service as we are that the best engineering brains shall be used in building our cars.

The buyer of an automobile should seriously consider the standing and character of the dealer of whom he buys. Good cars are made unpleasant possessions to their owners if they are bought from dealers who are not fair minded and congenial.

You buy something more than an automobile. You buy service. But, unfortunately, in the automobile trade, many dealers fail to recognize their obligations to their customers.

We are satisfied that in this new representation of HUDSON cars in this city owners of HUDSON automobiles will be accorded a treatment worthy of their respect and confidence.

The Hudson Motor Car Company has established an enviable prestige for quality, progressiveness and fair play. It is managed by a larger body of experts in all departments than other companies employ.

We recognize the important position which the dealer holds. Though he is a merchant buying and selling our products, he is in a measure our representative, and he fails and the buyer and we suffer if he is not in sympathy with our policies.

The change we have made here we are confident will obtain for owners of HUDSON cars the same interest we ourselves have in them, as is constantly made evident to every individual we know of who has one of our cars.

HUDSON MOTOR CAR COMPANY.

What (Coleman Cutchins) Has to Say

I have had a number of years of experience in the automobile trade. With that experience I have had an opportunity to take on the representation of almost any automobile I might have wanted.

When it was known that I was interested in accepting a new line, overtures were made to me by some of the best known companies in the country.

What I Have at Stake

My business future is staked in whatever car I undertake to sell. There are good automobiles known in this country to most automobile buyers, but because of lack of liberality on the part of the manufacturer or because these makers are not as progressive in adding to the character of automobiles, or because they do not support their owners in the way of service as well as I think they should, their lines were not acceptable to me.

For years the HUDSON has been the car that has occupied the attention and held the respect of all who are motorists.

I have talked with the owners of HUDSON cars not only here but elsewhere. I have interviewed people who did not know my object. Unanimously all who are familiar with the HUDSON have given me the very best kind of an endorsement because they unqualifiedly spoke of it in terms that could not be misinterpreted. They were pleased, not only with the car—for I must in that refer to models that have been discontinued—but in the policy of the Company, the promptness of its service and in the high quality of its product.

I Know Motor Car Values

In all lines of merchandise, success depends upon the ability to buy the right kind of goods at the right prices and to interpret the wants of the public.

Failure in any of these details means failure for that merchant. If I were to invest my time and capital and put my business back of a car that failed to make good its promises, I would suffer more than would any individual owner of that car, for upon me would be heaped the ill will and criticism of those who were disappointed. Naturally, I am not seeking that, and that is the reason why I have taken on the HUDSON line.

My investigations have led me deeply into the subject—into every phase of the Hudson Motor Car Company—its management, the attitude of the various individuals in the Company, many of whom I know, and the character of its product. I have investigated the human side of this corporation. I do not merely deal with the Hudson Motor Car Company, but with personalities. I know the ideals of the men who compose that organization, and that is why I have such confidence in HUDSON cars that I am staking my prestige in this community and my capital in this unqualified endorsement and recommendation that I am making.

In advocating any automobile the dealer is in the same position as one who recommends for credit another man. If he misjudges his man, discredit is brought upon him as sponsor. I have no hesitancy in standing sponsor for the Hudson Motor Car Company and any car which it offers. I go farther and endorse it with all that I am worth in reputation and what I hope to stand for in this community and with the money I have invested in the business.

To Owners of HUDSON Cars in This Territory

I have established a service for HUDSON cars that must be of value to all HUDSON owners.

Capable men are in charge. They are able to diagnose troubles and to remedy them without delay. This saves expense. It adds to service, and I want you to feel that here you will find the same keen interest and sympathy with your problems on my part that you would feel were you in the market to-day and I were trying to sell you an automobile.

The fact that you have bought before I began selling HUDSON cars has no bearing upon my attitude toward you. You are a member of the Big Family and I am its representative. I am able to give you prompt attention and I want to do it. Come to see me.

Roanoke, Va., August 3.—Roy M. Sullivan, the convict who killed Guard J. C. He will be moved to the State Penitentiary at Richmond, leaving here tomorrow night.

Sullivan does not realize that his recovery may mean that he will go to his death in the electric chair.

Sullivan was propped up in bed today and talked freely. He asked one of the guards how much extra time he thought would be given him for killing the guard and escaping. The guard realized that Sullivan is likely
